The Buffalo Courier publishes the ollowing remarkable story sent by a correspondent at Erie, Pa.:

The following remarkable story is rouched for by eight reliable citizens of this city. William P. Baxter is a sarge farm situated between North East, Pa., and Ripley, N. Y. He is frequently in this city, where he is well known. Near to the Baxter farm there lives a samily by the name of Fear, highly respected by their neighbors. About in this family a girl, a sweet little chern that became the pet of the neighborhood. They named her Rosa, and she grew up a lovely child, and in due time was sent to school. Here she distinguished herself by most extraordinary orecocity. Her aptitude exceeded that of scholars ten years older than herself, and in less than two years she had passed svery other pupil and stood at the head of her classes, the holder of all the honora competed for. At the age of four-teen she entered the service of Mrs. Baxter, the first wife of the farmer referred to. Rosa proved to be as good a girl for farm-house dutties as she had been a student, and the Baxter family liked her so well that she was treated in every caspect as though she was one of the family. She continued to live there, and when she had attained the age of eightoen her hand was sought in marriage by a young farmer from a neighboring village. For some reason, unaccountable at that time to her friends, Miss Fear declined the honorable offer, alleging that she had no desire to quit the roof of her kind friends. About this time it began to be noticed that Rosa's features were losing their feminine softness, and that the effeminate contour of her hitherto symmetrical form was vanishing, and giving place to masculine angularity. Her hands that were once so well shaped began to grow large and coarse, and a down appeared on her upper lip. The presence of the latter freatly distressed her, and as it leaves broken cone it was found to ha

The gowns are put on the justices in what is called the robe room, adjoining the court, at five minutes to 12 o'clock, for the judges never go upon the beach until high noon. Then, after the Marshal's deputy sings his song about "God bless the United States and the Justices of this court," or words to that effect, the arrival of the justices having been previously announced, they take their seats and are ready for business.

Petty Worries.

What a blessed thing it is that we can forget. To-day's troubles look large, but a week hence they will be forgotten and buried out of sight. Says one writer: "If you would keep a book and daily put down the things that worry you and see what becomes of them, it would be a benefit to you."

You allow a fly to settle on you and plague you; and you lose your temper, (or rather get it,) for when men are surcharged with temper they are said to have lost it, and justify yourselves for being thrown off your balance by causes which you do not trace out. But if you would see what it was that threw you off your balance before breakfast and put it down in a little book, and follow it up and ascertain what becomes of it you would see what a fool you were in the matter.

The cat of forgetting is a blessed art. sonal attractions, tried to langh mor out of her sensitiveness. But the girl appeared to be consumed with a secret.

About six months after this, Rosa aid not appear as usual one morning. No nuwer came from her room, and when it was broken open it was found to have been unoccupied that night. All Rosa's clothes were hanging up, even to those he was accustomed to wear about the house. Mr. Eaxter sent his son Charles to look in the barn, neither was she was not in the barn, neither was she in any part of the farm. At last the searchers found two letters in her trunk, one addressed to Mrs. Baxter, the other to her parents. The contents of Mrs. Baxter's letter created the utmost to her burner, that her life had be come unbestuble because within a year nature had worked a completo metamorphosis, unsexing her and making it necessary to change her home and ranment. Tho astomished Eaxters discovered that she had attred herself in a suit of clothes belonging to Dr. A. A. Freeman, now an alderman from the First Ward in this city. Dr. Freeman was a yearly visitor at the tax ter farm, and he frequently spends a day there still. He was well acquainted with there still. Great Bargains!

It is not true, the attaches of United States Supreme Court say, that any of the Justices have had gowns made in Paris by Worth. They are all home made, and have all been made by one family of people for nearly forty years. Zach Chandler had a very poor opinion of these gowns, for it is said of him that he once said to Salmon P. Chase, a former Chief Justice: "Salmon, when you have your d—dold jacket on you look every inch a judge." There is no reason why one of these gowns should be called a jacket, for the skirt reaches the floor. The gowns are put on the justices in Owing to the extraordinary large stocks East in Clothing on account of the duflness in trade in various sections of the United States, we have bought our second stock, now on our counters, at fully 20 per cent, less than any of our competitors, who still own their first purchases. B. STINE,

THE "BOSS CLOTHIER,"

The clerkship of the courties worth more than the salary of four of the Justices, as it is said to frequently pay over $40,000 per year. The charges are simply terrible. It costs about a dollar for the clerk to look at you, and another dollar to get out of his sight. They have a little talk then of keeping the decisions back as long as possable, often a couple of months, and in the mean time if any one wants a copy of the decision it costs $2 for each page of one hundred words. There is no good reason why the decisions should not be put in type the day they are delivered, and furnished, the departed of the court except in the time-honored but excessively slow way. This, all gree, would be a great convenience, but it would take $10,000 a year out of the fees of the clerk, and of course it is not done. Several times bills have been prepared for introduction in Congress on the subject, but somehow nothing was heard of them afterward. Those who proposed them were convineed that it was not the custom, and they let the matter drop. The Supreme Court has always held that every bill relating to the court must first be sent to them for inspection, and they let the matter drop. Tur Silk Association of America reports that the products of the year ending June 30, which amounted in value to about $25,000,000, are triple the value of the products of the factories ten years ago. Since 1870 the product and the productive capacity of the industry have very greatly increased. Withen the decade the number of factories engaged in silk manufacture has increased from 86 , to 388, while the looms increased from 1,500 to 8,000, and the hands employed from 6,600 to 21,300. The wages paid rose in the ten years. from $2,000,000 to $9,000,000, and many new States not previously engaged in the industry began to mannfacture silk, and now have factories Wat work. These States are Maine, 19 Rade Island, California, Illinois, Kansas and Missouri.

Tin unanimity with which the Memocratic papers of the fourteenth district endorse the nomination of Capt. D. H Harts as the prohibition emdidate for Congress, and the prominence of former. Democrats in the movement, lead to the conclusion that the scheme to run a third camit vilate is not of so spontaneous a nature as many would have us suppose, and already the velvety hand of Adhi I. Stevenson begins to be visable in the manipulations. Prior to the holding of the prohibition convention the knowing ones among the Democratic leaders were pretty generally in favor of John H. Tweeve years ago the experiment of running a congressional prohibition ticket was tried in this district. Col. Merriam, the Republican candidate, was defeated, and Jim. Robin son, the Democratic candidate elected. Not a soul has been able to see how the cause of temperance was advanced by the effort. Its one palpable effect was to make Republicans extremely indignant over their defeat, and the unsatisfactory nature of the experiment is apparent from the fact that it was not tried at the ensuing five elections. MARSHALL, Ill., July 21.-The nomination of Judge Aaron Shaw at Olney as a caudidate for congressman on the Democratic ticket is not causing much enthusiasm in his party here. He is a fossil as to politics, and is not considered a strong man in this district. An effort is being made to bring the name of Judge Wilkin, of this place, before the Republican convention on Auin the county of Lanark, Ontario, a gust 2, and if his consent is obtained pillar of granite 75 feet in height, a close race may be expected. Washington, D. C., July 21.—The tar route trial has taken a new hold upon public interest by the introduction of Walsh's testimony. It introduces a new element on the trial, and what the result will be can not be foreseen. It remains to be demonstrated by future events whether Walsh's statement will make more of an impression on the petit jury than it did upon the grand jury, which refused to return an indictment. The government counsel expects to make an impression with his testimony, although it is of a class that always requires corroboration and is easily

As regards the position of the body, the results, so far as the nature of the dreams are concerned, are varied. For example, when he lay upon his back he experienced luxurious and sensorial dreams. To sleep on the right side brought him dreams which were absurd and full of exaggeration, and which brought old matters vividly back to mind. While lying on his left side the exaggerated character of the visions disappeared. They became sensible and intelligible, and recalled more recent experiences The phenomenon of speech in shun ber was also more apt to be noted while the body lay in this posture.

WILL THEY FIGHT?

Prospertive Fugilistic Contest Between Local Tnumpers.

A wild rumor has been affoat on the streets of the city that during August there would be a lively mill tussle be tween two Decatur butchers not a thousand miles distant. The story was not credited at first but on investigation this morning a reporter learned that that the matter is not "all talk and no fight." The late fistic encounter between Sullivan and Wilson has given the friends of the butchers fresh food for talk, and unless the prospective contestants pull in their horns there will be a punching meeting there is no official interference. The names of the muscular local celebrities, who are strongly backed by ardent admirers, are James Garraw, the butcher at No. 37 North Church street, and Joe Eno, another powerful butcher connected with the Blenz shop on the north side of the old square. Prize fighting is not looked upon with favor by all people, but in case the two men meet there will certainly be a big crowd of sports and thumpers present to witness the proceedings. It is understood that the fight will be conducted under the rules recognized by professional rongilists. THE CHALLENGE ACCEPTED. Since the above was written the following was received at this office: mg was received at this office:

selves to make all visitors welcome and

There was another good-sized crowd at the base hall park on yesterday afternoon to witness what proved to be a fairly interesting gante between the Decatur Reds and the Bloomington Blues, the latter being the same club with but two excepm, and closed at 5:35, the Reds easy victors by a score of 16 to 10. Mr. C. C. Carter was the umpire. The score by innings was as follows:

Decatur, .... 0 2 1 0 5 5 3 0 0 -16 Bloomington, 0 0 0 0 1 4 0 1 4-10 Notwithstanding their bad luck in batting and fielding, the Blucs kept in good prayed with their usum sam, for Martin doing all the pitching and Mr. Fothes winning many marks of appreciation by his daring catching behind the bat. There were two very nice double plays, the first by Ed Martin who could be found to be too soft, add reason. by Ed Martin who caught a fly and sent on the run, and sending the ball to Hall Martin making the best hits.

At the outset it looked as if the game victor. It surely is no credit to either would be a one-soled affair, but it grew Decatur or Lincoln to have a score stand more interesting later, and was a good 20 to 14. Pantagraph, 11st. treat. WILL TRY IT AGAIN. It was arranged last night, at the instance of the visitors for the Reds and Blues to play again at the park this afternoon, commencing at three o'clo k. It is predicted that this game will be a close Ienuie Nolam on a charge of vagrancy, one. The Blues will go to Springfield tomorrow to play a game with the Watch Factory club. We are requested to announce that there will be another meeting of Decatur ladies at the residence of Mrs. Sheriff Foster, at the county jud, on Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, to make formal arrangements for the "Alerts" benefit fair and festival, at the tabernacle on Wednesday and Thursday evenings of next week. Let there be a full attendance of all ladies

There was a successful surprise visita-

night, on West Main street. The company included about ten couples, who assembled by previous arrangement at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clay Dempsey, and from thence proceeded in a body to the objective point. Unfortunately Mrs. Wheeler was absent, she having gone to St. Louis for several days, but Miss Wheeler and the genial doctor did the honors of the evening with their usual cordiality and grace. There was music and dancing and a toothsome lot of refreshments. 'Phose present were: Misses Minnie Brooks, Mabel Carder, Alice Huwks, Annie Me-Donald, Lou Michl, Katie Boyer, Laura Brockway, Sylvia Shaffer, Neva Staart; Mesdames Jennie Dempsey and John Gragg, Mesers, Clay Dempsey, Will Leiby, Corwin Smith, Henry Elwood, Slater Kilmer, J. M. Ehrman, Riley Pratt, Oscar Lyter, E. Brooks and Charles Travia. Music for the occasion was furnished by Prof. Rutz and Will Muzzy.

The 1882 School Census. Mr. T. W. Evans, principal of the first vard school, has just finished his work of taking the school census of the city of Decatur. The names of all persons between the ages of 6 and 21 years were procured. Below is Mr. Evans' report:

"A Square Man" Next Week This is the kind of a send-off a Philalelphia paper gave the J. M. Hill Combination, which will present the new play, "A Square Man," at the opera house in this city on Wednesday evening next:

Last evening, a new romantic play, "A source Man," by Edward J. Sward, of the Evening Telegraph, and its initial presentation in this city at the Walnut Street Theatre, in the presence of a fair nuclence. This place was recently highly successful in Brooklyn, and its hit bere was pronounced. The plot is not new, the characters are old acquaintances and many of the incidents are familiar, still "A Square Man" has a distinct individuality and gives marked satisfaction. It is certainly astrong and good as any western drama now holding the stage, while a vein of pleasant himoropervales it. Bern, Maginley, as Jack Kenyon, acted capitally, depicting the honest, manly miner in colors of the most vivia kind. He was very natural and telling in all his scenes. Edward Lamb, as Zeck Penbody, was exceedingly humorous and effective. Miss Lathic Novon, as Blossom, was sprightly and attractive, furtly dividing the honors of the country with Mr. Maginley. The other roles were furtly sustained. The plece was adequately set. It will run all the week.

The Outlook for Prices.

N. Y. Letter in Buffalo Heraid. Thus far the prospect is good for 18. The west and south will reap grand profits and be steady buyers f the manufactures and productions of the east, so that the railroads will have a good winter business both ways. The masses of people east of Lake Erie will probably not have so bad a winter as was threatened two months ago, as there promises to be steady employment at present rates, a somewhat dry consolation in view of the fact that both fresh and salt neats grow eteadily higher, and there no reduction in the prices of flour, potatoes and butter. Fresh fish are very high and scarce, and shell fish quite out of the market; lobsters, for instance, which only a few years since were a very cheap and favorite article of food with poor people, cost now about as much per pound as fresh salmon. I don't wonder that the "rank and file" here at the east wear sarcastic faces over their prosperity. Their wages five years ago was the same as to-day, while with almost every article of personal and household use 50 cents would buy far more than $1 will at the present. A little more prosperity of the same kind will make them all dependent on the charitable societies. I said, yesterday, to one of the partners of perhaps the most enterprising dry goods house in New York, What will the fall business be?" and he answered: "Every bit as big as in 1880, and just as profita-Two months ago the views of
